

The Daily Courant.

Monday, August 13. 1705.

From the Bruffels Gazette, dated July 31.

Naples, June 30.

THe Duke d' Escalona our Viceroy, has appointed 3 Gallies to transport to Spain the Duke of Popoli and his Dutcheſs, the 40 young Gentlemen who have voluntarily liſted themſelves in his Company of the King's Italian Life-Guards, and 160 Soldiers to ſupply the Rooms of thoſe he ſhall chooſe out of the Italian Terzaes that are in Catalonia, to compleat his ſaid Company. He deſigns to be gone the next Week; 'Tis ſaid, the King allows him to keep the Title, and to receive the Pay of Major General of the Forces of this Kingdom. Monſieur de Caſcado is arriv'd here, to command the French Troops in the room of the Marquis d' Avarai, who has receiv'd Order from the moſt Chriſtian King to go to Spain to ſerve under the Marſ. de Theſſe. Our Viceroy has order'd a Troop of Horſe to march to the Frontier of the Eccleſiaſtical State, there to receive the Marquis de Bedmar Viceroy of Sicily, and attend him hither. The Trees about the Caſtle of St. Elmo are ordered to be cut down, that the Country may be the more expoſ'd to the Cannon of that Place. A few days ago one of our Citizens having kill'd his Wife in a jealous Fit, took Sanctuary in a Monaſtry; but being afterwards convinced of her Innocence, he hang'd himſelf. A Troop of Banditi has committed ſeveral Roberies lately about Capua, but ſome of them have been taken, and the Officers of Juſtice are in purſuit of the reſt.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Auguſt 8.

Naples, July 7. The Marquis de Bedmar Viceroy of Sicily, arriv'd here the 5th at Night, accompanied by a Troop of Horſe that was ſent to receive him on the Frontier, by a great Number of Coaches, and by the Duke d' Escalona Viceroy of Naples, who went to meet him at Melito 4 Miles from hence. On his Arrival he was ſaluted by the Cannon of the Caſtles, Ships, and Gallies, and alighted at the Palace where he is entertain'd with all Magnificence. The Gallies with which he is to paſs over to Palermo are ready, and thoſe of Genoa on board which came ſeveral Perſons of his Retinue, are arriv'd here, ſo that he will be gone in few Days.

From the Bruffels Gazette, dated Aug. 7.

Naples, July 9. The Statue of King Philip V. which our Magiſtrates have cauſ'd to be made in Memory of his Maſteſty's having honour'd this City with his Preſence, is brought into the Square of Jeſus to be plac'd on the Pe-deſtal made for it. On Snuday the 5th Inſt. the Marquis and Marchioneſs of Bedmar arriv'd here, and were conducted to the Apartment of the Palace which the Duke d' Escalona our Viceroy had cauſ'd to be fitted up for them, and where the next day they receiv'd the Compliments of the principal Perſons of Quality of this Court. 'Twas in Caſerta that 2 of the Banditi mentioned in our former, were taken: They and their Comrades had entred that Town in the Night with deſign to ſieze and carry off the Prince of San Nicandro's Steward, who having time to arm his Servants before they could break into his Houſe, repulſ'd them, and the Inhabitants running to his Aſſiſtance upon his cauſing an Alarum-Bell to be rung out, theſe 2 Banditi were taken; the reſt fled into a Church, in which they are inveſted, till the Biſhop give leave for taking them out, there being no Immunity or Sanctuary for Robbers on the Highway. The Corſaires of Barbary infeſt our Seas, and have taken in the height of Rocella a Tartan bound for Meſſina, and another that was bound hither.

Plymouth, Aug. 8. This Afternoon was brought in by Her Maſteſty's Ships the Medway Lord Mordaunt Commander, and the Chatham Captain Bockenham, a French Man of War of 54 Guns, call'd the Auguſte, taken laſt Night. They left the Worceſter Captain Butler Commander engag'd with another French Man of War of the like Force, commanded by Monſieur Degrez, who took the Elizabeth and Coventry. The Rochetter Captain Owen Commander was coming up to the Worceſter's Aſſiſtance: So we hope by to morrow to have a good Account of the ſaid other French Man of War.

Portſmouth, Aug. 11. We have here a moſt violent Storm, a great many Ships are blown from their Anchors: within a Mile and a half of this Place, above 30 Sail are blown aſhore, among which is the Raby Frigate Captain Ricards Commander bound for Liſbon, and a Ship call'd the Hunter. The Names of the reſt I do not yet know. The Golden Star, bound for the Canaries, Captain Chriſtmas Commander, is ſunk at Spithead; a Transport Ship being diſabled was quitted by her Men, who took to their Boat, which overſet and moſt of them were drown'd. Several other Ships we ſee in great Diſtreſs. The Men of War have cut their Maſts by the Board, and ſtill ride it out. If the Storm continues God knows whether they will be able to hold it.

We are told the Poſt comes away from Portſmouth about 11 a Clock in the Morning.

Deal,

Deal, Aug. 11. We have had here a violent Storm of Wind and Rain, from about one of the Clock for most part of this Morning, tho' now (God be thank'd) much abated. It has not done much Damage in the Downes, only one Forreigner having lost her Fore-mast and Boltsprit; the rest of the Ships all riding safe.

London, August 12.

In the River of Thames most of the Ships that rid in the middle were blown from their Anchors, (by the Storm abovemention'd which began here between 1 and 2 a Clock on Saturday Morning,) and some falling foul on others, several lost their Boltsprits, and receiv'd other Damage. A great Ship ready to depart for Leghorne is sunk. Several Lighters laden with Coals were sunk above Bridge, and some Western Boats coming with Garden Stuff for the Markets, were overfet and several Persons drown'd. A Carman was kill'd in St. Paul's Church yard, by a Board that blew off from one of the Scaffolds of the Church.

Not Acted these Twenty Years.
